

Core Competencies- Justice Involved Specialization for Certified Medi-Cal Peer Support Specialists

Introduction

Peer Support is a proven tool for enhancing the recoveries of people with mental illness and/or substance use challenges. Senate Bill 803 (SB 803) recognizes the benefit that peer support provides to individuals and families with mental health and substance use difficulties and the increased diversity and effectiveness peers bring to the mental health workforce. In alignment with SB 803, the Department of Health Care Services (DHCS) established statewide requirements for the development of a program to certify Peer Support Specialists, creating a new Medi-Cal provider type and service categories that will be reimbursable through Medi-Cal. The California Mental Health Services Authority (CalMHSA) is implementing a Peer Support Specialist Certification program on behalf of interested county mental health and behavioral health plans. Specifically, this report focuses on additional training and skills for certified Medi-Cal Peer Support Specialists who provide peer support to individuals with criminal justice involvement.

As part of this implementation plan, CalMHSA has undergone a thorough landscape analysis of existing Peer Certification programs across the United States to compare core curriculums, training standards, required skills, and best practices. This landscape analysis will focus on the core skills and practices of peer support for persons with criminal justice involvement, a priority specialization area which was identified by community members and stakeholders in California. Employment of Peer Support Specialists who work with individuals involved in the justice system is a growing practice. Acceptance of employing peers with lived experience to help others successfully navigate the criminal justice system has increased in recent years because it is effective in reducing recidivism and improving lives of service recipients. As the specialization of peer support services for persons with criminal justice involvement has gained wider acceptance, so has the need for developing standards of practice. Those evolving standards will be explored in this report.

Peer support is a person-centered, strengths-based support system offered to individuals who are involved in the criminal justice system who have mental health and/or substance use disorders. Peer support for persons with criminal justice involvement often starts from initial contact with law enforcement and supports continue through re-entry and reintegration into the community after release from incarceration. Peer Support Specialists are invaluable in helping identify resources within the community, including employment and housing opportunities, which may pose barriers for individuals with criminal justice involvement. Peer support can lead to successful reintegration into the community and a reduction of individuals with mental illness in the criminal justice system.

Peer support for persons with criminal justice involvement is based on principles of self-determination and an awareness that involvement in the criminal justice system is inherently traumatic. Using a trauma informed approach, peers with lived experience of criminal justice involvement act as credible role models, support pro-social behaviors, encourage compliance with probation/parole requirements, and provide the hope that there is a better life possible for individuals leaving the criminal justice system.

Background

Mental Health Services: Peer Support Specialist Certification Program Act of 2020

Senate Bill 803 (SB 803), authored by California State Senator Jim Beall is the “Mental Health Services: Peer Support Specialist Certification Program Act of 2020.” It sets a standard of seventeen Core Competencies that every Peer Support Specialist is required to know to be certified as a practitioner. In California, this creates a new provider and service type eligible for Medi-Cal reimbursement through the county mental health and behavioral health plans. The Department of Health Care Services will create guidance of reimbursement requirements.

To be a certified Medi-Cal Peer Support Specialist an individual must meet the following qualifications:

- Be at least 18 years of age.
- Possess a high school diploma or equivalent degree.
- Be self-identified as having experience with the process of recovery from mental illness or substance use disorder, either as a consumer of these services or as the parent, caregiver or family member of a consumer.
- Be willing to share their experience.
- Have a strong dedication to recovery.
- Agree, in writing, to adhere to a code of ethics.

- Successfully complete the curriculum and training requirements for a peer support specialist.
 - Pass a certification examination approved by DHCS for a peer support specialist.

Core Competencies for Medi-Cal Peer Support Specialists

The training curriculum for Peer Support specialists must incorporate the following core competencies: 1) The concepts of hope, recovery, and wellness; 2) The role of advocacy; 3) The role of consumers and family members; 4) Psychiatric rehabilitation skills and service delivery, and addiction recovery principles, including defined practices; 5) Cultural and structural competence trainings; 6) Trauma-informed care; 7) Group facilitation skills; 8) Self-awareness and self-care; 9) Co-occurring disorders of mental health and substance use; 10) Conflict resolution; 11) Professional boundaries and ethics; 12) Preparation for employment opportunities, including study and test-taking skills, application and résumé preparation, interviewing, and other potential requirements for employment; 13) Safety and crisis planning; 14) Navigation of, and referral to, other services; 15) Documentation skills and standards; 16) Confidentiality; 17) Digital literacy

In California, a single certification exists for the Medi-Cal Peer Support Specialists who meet the certification requirements noted above. Additionally, a certified Medi-Cal Peer Support Specialist may elect to receive training in any of the 4 areas of specialization: 1) Parent, Caregiver, Family Member Peer; 2) Working with persons who are in crisis; 3) Working with persons who are involved in the criminal justice system; and 4) Working with persons who are unhoused. The areas of specialization offer a certificate of completion and no state certification exists for the areas of specialization. For this report, we will provide a high-level overview of the essential components to each core competency for certified Medi-Cal Peer Support Specialists who plan to work with persons who are involved in the criminal justice system. Specifically, we will review the core training curriculum for the certified Medi-Cal Peer Support Specialists and identify any additional training areas of focus for this area of specialization.

Conclusion

Based on our review of available information, when surveyed, criminal justice involved individuals identified and ranked six peer characteristics they found most important.

1. A history of incarceration and successful reentry.¹
2. A history of overcoming trauma.
3. A history of addiction and recovery.
4. The age of the mentor.
5. The race of the mentor.
6. The gender of the mentor.

A history of incarceration and the impact of trauma were the most important characteristics for an individual offering peer support to an individual with criminal justice involvement. Support by a peer with personal lived experience with aspects of criminal justice involvement and successful community reentry was considered central to the peer relationship.

Core Competencies Identified

The following table contains a summary of Core Competencies and related skills for peer support for persons with criminal justice involvement. The data was collected from a range of sources including: “Forensic Peer Specialists: An Emerging Workforce” from the Center for Behavioral Health Services and Criminal Justice Research (June 2011); “Substance Use Disorder Forensic Peer Best Practices Curriculum” by Michael Razavi, MPH, PRC, CADC I, CPS & Joan Ayala, MSW, CADC III, CRM (May 2017); “THE SEQUENTIAL INTERCEPT MODEL: Advancing Community-Based Solutions for Justice-Involved People with Mental and Substance Use Disorders” by PRA (Policy Research Associates); “Forensic Peer Support: The role of the forensic peer within the Sequential Intercept Model” by Christopher Gonzalez, MAEd & Brett W Matossian, BHT (2017); “Peer Support within Criminal Justice Settings: The Role of Forensic Peer Specialists” by Larry Davidson, Ph.D., and Michael Rowe, Ph.D. (May 2008); and “Peer Support Roles in Criminal Justice Settings” by SAMHSA, (Substance Abuse Mental Health Services Administration) (August 2017).

This summary is not meant to be exhaustive but to provide an overview of necessary skills and offer sample field practices that may be used to support individuals with criminal justice involvement and mental health and/or substance use disorders recover and create lives of freedom for themselves.
